

Figure 2. Responses to statement: ‘Immunisations for children should be strongly recommended to the family’

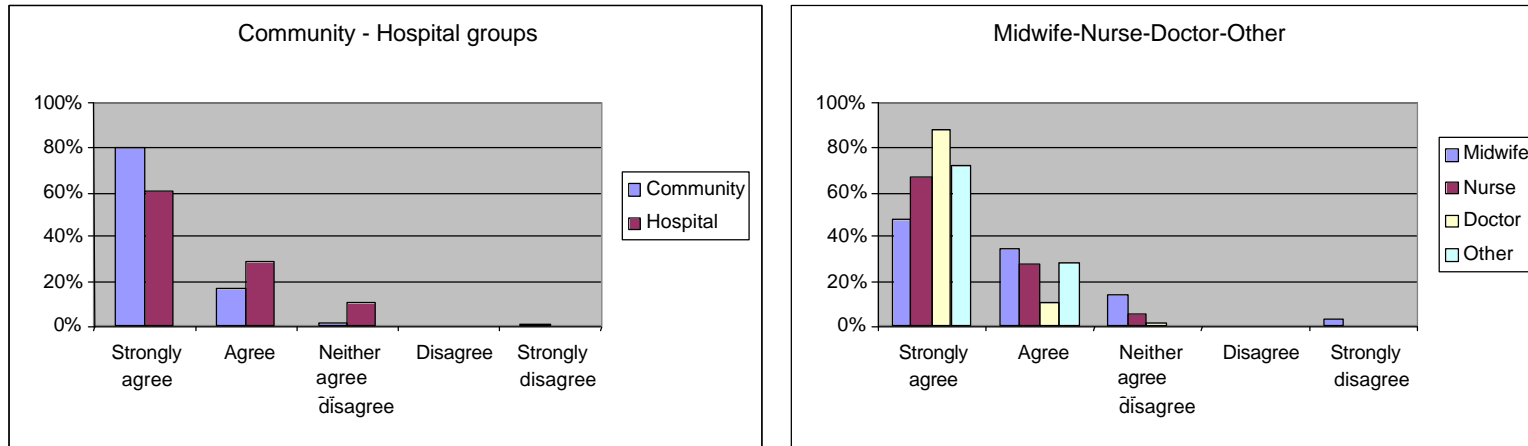

Figure 3. Responses to statement: ‘Quality scientific research is the most important basis for immunisation recommendations’

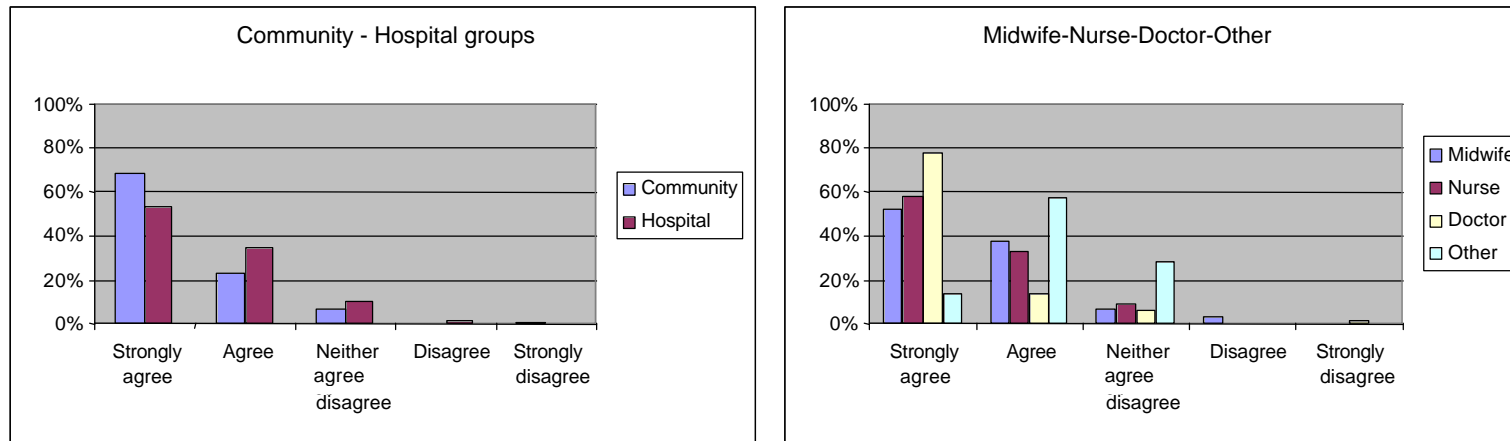

Figure 4. Responses to statement: ‘Current recommendations for immunisation have good scientific support’

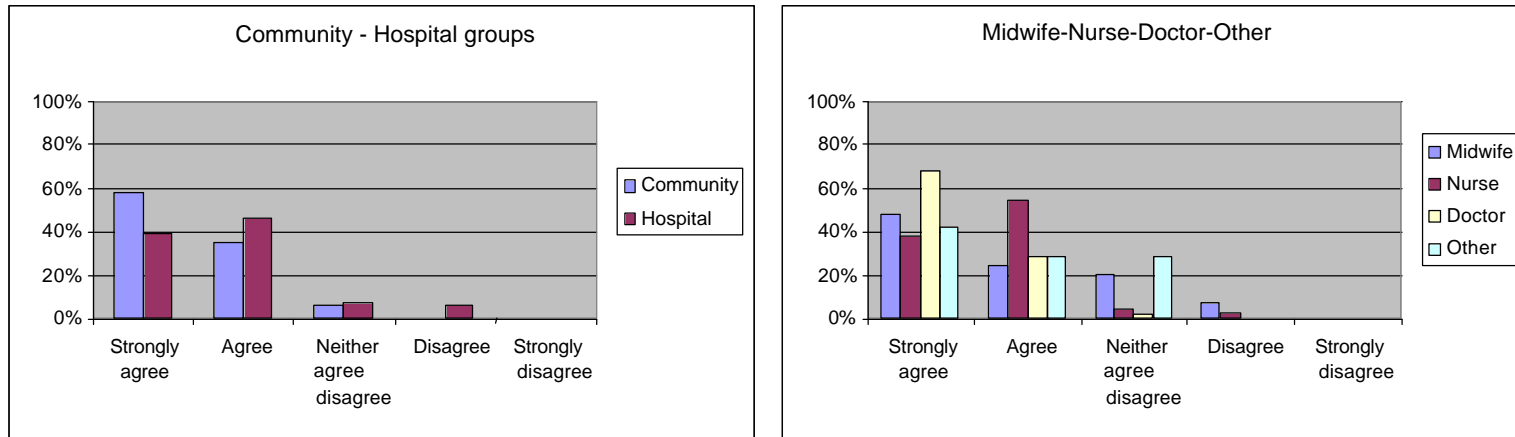

Figure 5. Responses to statement: ‘A small risk to the individual in order to protect the community is appropriate’

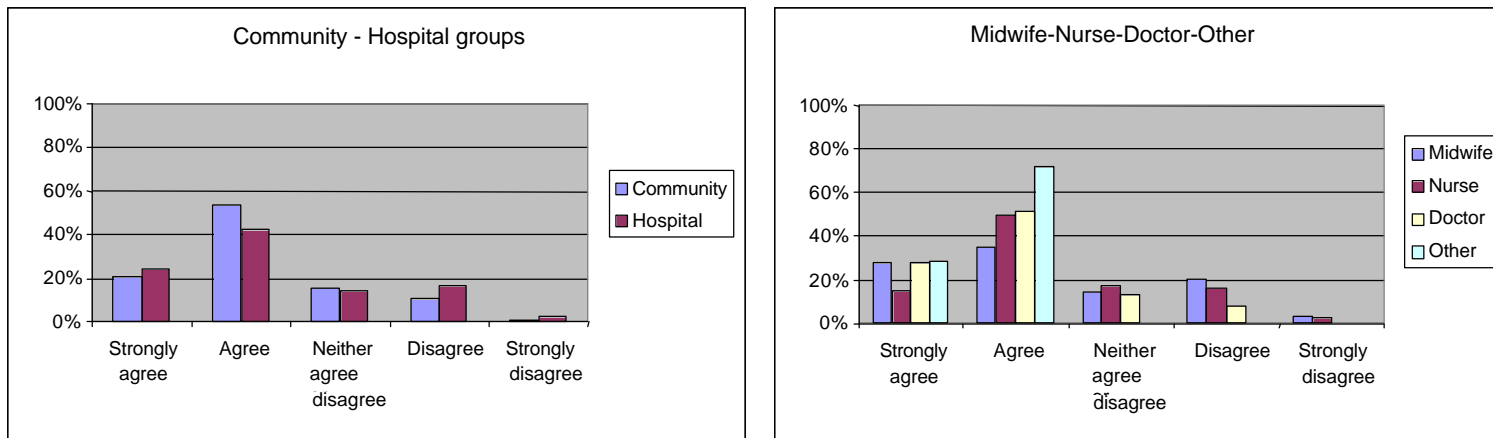

Figure 6. Responses to statement: ‘Immunisations have unacceptable dangers’

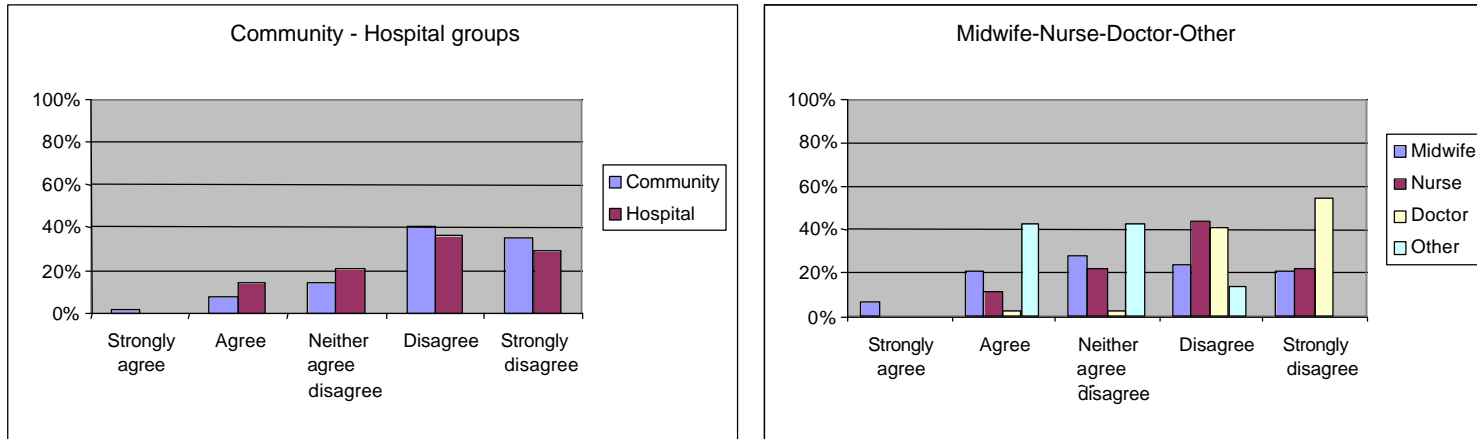

Figure 7. Responses to statement: ‘I think that MMR is implicated as a cause of autism and/or Crohn’s disease’

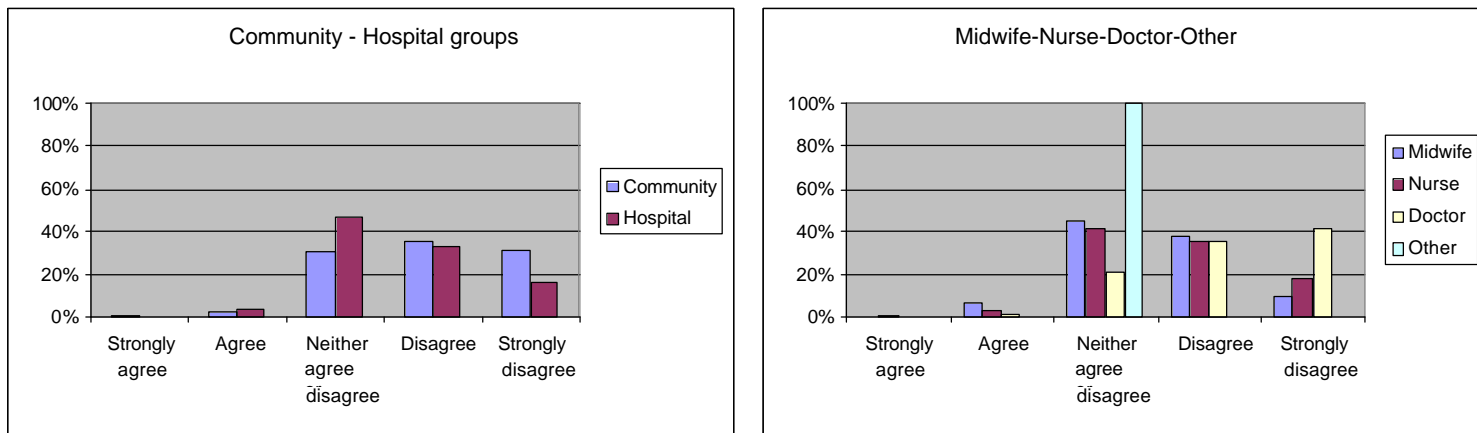

Figure 8. Responses to statement: ‘Media coverage of possible vaccination problems has changed my attitude’

